

LAST EDITION

ONE CENT

BILLY SUNDAY AND MARY PICKFORD ARE BIG
FEATURES OF THE DAY BOOK FOR NEXT WEEK
—LABOR CONFERENCE BRINGS ON HOT FIGHT

• THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 4, NO. 152

Chicago, Friday, March 26, 1915

398

WOMEN TO FIGHT ENEMIES OF EIGHT- HOUR LAW IN LEGISLATURE

Mary O'Reilly of the Chicago Teachers' Federation Expresses Views of Advocates of Human Law
—Big Business Lines Up on Other Side

"I don't see how any business man who is fighting the eight-hour law for women can go to his home and take his wife in his arms and give her an honest kiss.

"If I were a man I would be ashamed to face my wife or my daughter or mother unless I had done something to help get the eight-hour law for women passed by the Illinois legislature."

Mary O'Reilly of the executive board of the Chicago Federation of Labor so declared herself today. She is one of a group of Chicago women and men who are getting ready to go to Springfield next Tuesday and battle against the Illinois Manufacturers'

Ass'n for the passage of the eight-hour law. Miss O'Reilly explains why she hates the business man who is against the law:

"The ten-hour day is too long. For thousands of Illinois women it means lowered vitality. They are spoiled for vigorous motherhood. They produce stunted children. The place to begin the combat against slums is with a short workday."

"Any person who will study the facts presented by Josephine Goldmark in her book on 'Fatigue and Efficiency' will find arguments that can't be answered in favor of the short workday. These facts were presented to the supreme court of